

To all of my wonderful P7s,

I can't actually believe I am writing a goodbye letter and that your time in St. Brigid's has come to an end. Goodbyes don't always have to be sad, but they are still important and it is only fitting that I tell you just how amazing you all are as you prepare to embark on the next, exciting stage of your school life.

The potential for success and self-fulfilment that I have seen in each of you this year and indeed, throughout the years, is incredible. During your time in St. Brigid's we have encouraged you to be ambitious, be confident, be self-assured and work hard to achieve your dreams. We have helped your parents to instil wonderful personal qualities of kindness, compassion, generosity and thoughtfulness in you and we have supported you when you have needed a helping hand or a shoulder to lean on or even when you needed a hug. We have been your extended family for so many years now and although we are sad to let you go, let you go we must. We know you have grown and developed the skills and qualities needed to move on successfully and although we may shed a little tear, we know you have the confidence and the desire to embrace this new chapter in your lives and grab hold of all the opportunities you will be offered with both hands.

You are the future. The world is yours to make wonderful. Have the confidence to play your part. And when you think back, in years to come, of your first years of school, I hope you smile with fondness for St. Brigid's.

Goodbye and good luck. Treasure the memories you have made in St. Brigid's and enjoy making new ones in the years to come.

I will miss you,

Mrs Campbell xx
